Greater New York WorldQuest 2014
A high school team competition testing knowledge of global affairs

Wednesday, March 19, 2014
4:00 to 7:00 PM
Stuyvesant High School
345 Chambers Street, NYC

The Foreign Policy Association, organizer of the United States’ largest international affairs learning program of its kind, will host the 8th annual Greater New York WorldQuest competition on March 19. Each high school team of four students from Grades 9 through 12 answers multiple-choice questions focusing on the topics listed below. During a box-dinner break, students meet and learn about peers from other schools. Study tools for students and guidelines for faculty advisers are available from the Foreign Policy Association.

Prizes

First Place: The winning team and faculty adviser receive a trip to Washington, D.C., where they will compete with about 4,000 other students from winning regional teams in the April 26, 2014 National WorldQuest Competition. The National Competition weekend also features global affairs learning opportunities such as visits to embassies, expert presentations, and discussions on international relations careers, as well as many social activities.

Each member of the winning team also receives a $100 cash prize.

Second Place: Each team member receives a $50 cash prize. Third Place: Each team member receives a $25 cash prize.

2014 WorldQuest Topics

- Global Economic Realignment
- Cybersecurity
- Global Environmental Issues
- U.S. Education
- Global Health
- U.N. Millennium Goal 1: Eradicate Extreme Poverty and Hunger
- Middle East
- Great Decisions: Topics from the Foreign Policy Association’s briefing book
- Geography

A high school team competition testing knowledge of global affairs

The 8th annual Greater New York WorldQuest competition will be held on Wednesday, March 19, 2014, from 4 to 7 PM at Stuyvesant High School.

Teams of four students in Grades 9 through 12 from each high school test their knowledge of global affairs during rounds of multiple-choice questioning. The three teams with the most correct answers receive prizes described below.

Who Sponsors WorldQuest?
The Foreign Policy Association, which reaches more individuals in the United States than any other nonpartisan world affairs educational organization, sponsors Greater New York WorldQuest. The Foreign Policy Association serves as a catalyst for developing awareness, understanding, and informed opinion on U.S. foreign policy and global issues.

What Are the WorldQuest Prizes?

First Place: The winning team and faculty adviser receive a trip to Washington, D.C., where they will compete with about 4,000 other students from winning regional teams in the April 26, 2014 National WorldQuest Competition. The National WorldQuest weekend also features global affairs learning opportunities such as visits to embassies, expert presentations, and discussions on international relations careers, as well as many social activities.

Each member of the winning team also receives a $100 cash prize.

Second Place: Each team member receives a $50 cash prize. Third Place: Each team member receives a $25 cash prize.

How Do Teams Prepare for the Competition?
The Foreign Policy Association will provide competing teams with study resources and sample questions. Guidelines for faculty advisers also will be available.

The faculty adviser registers the team with the Foreign Policy Association, assists in preparing students for the competition, and travels to the competition with the team. The adviser to the winning team also prepares the team for the national competition and travels with the team to Washington, D.C.
